

TWO INLETS LAKE ASSOCIATION – LAKE JOURNAL BULLETIN QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER – SUMMER 2016 – VOLUME 1 EDITION 7

PRESIDENTS REPORT

Hello to All,

The peak of the summer has passed with the dog days of August fast approaching. The next conversation starter? WILL IT SNOW EARLY THIS YEAR!!

The annual meeting was well attended with great conversation and fellowship, followed by wonderful food. The minutes have been posted on the associations website, and some of the highlights included discussion of a port-a-potty at the lake access, Loon nesting successes (including a natural site), future Purple Martin colonies and the new friends and neighbors on the lake. Not to be forgotten was the celebrating of Lucy Smith's 90th birthday.

The boat parade was a huge success with wonderful and imaginative decorations on the boats. The toys for the kids and kid wantabees were a big hit. Some 20 boats participated and a special thanks to everyone for their efforts.

The “Little Free Library” continues to be well used by the residents and visitors alike. The children books fly from the site, so we need your continued support, especially in this area. A very special thanks to Ed Eischens for the mowing and general upkeep of that area.

A follow up regarding the port-a-potty issue, the state DNR will place a unit at the public lake access from the opening of fishing season until October at no expense to the Lake Association. That will start next year.

The state has enacted a new law referred to as the “BUFFER ZONE.” The law is quite complicated and does affect those of us living on the lakes, rivers and creeks. Please feel free to call me with questions, especially if you are thinking about working on your waterfront.

Enjoy the rest of your summer and be safe..... Glen Wolters, President

LAKE REFLECTIONS

Politicians and diapers have one thing in common; they should be changed regularly and for the same reason.

The most common last name initial in the United States in "S."

Age does not always bring wisdom. Sometimes age just happens.

The numbers in a single SUDOKU puzzle add up to 405.

In just two days, tomorrow will be yesterday.

A mosquito has 47 teeth.

It is frustrating when you know all the right answers, but nobody bothers to ask you the questions.

Dogs are more likely to have a nervous breakdown than any other non-human animal.

Wisdom is like money, they both help. But wisdom is better because it can save whoever has it.

A squirrel's tail can be used as a parachute, enabling it to fall up to 100 feet without injury.

The joy that comes past hope and beyond expectation is like no other pleasure in extent.

The only fruit to have seeds on the outside is the strawberry.

Worry is the interest we pay on tomorrow's troubles.

A group of swans is called a bevy.

When pain is to be borne, a little courage helps more than much knowledge, a little human sympathy more than much courage, and the least tincture of the love of God more than all.

The leader of a wolf pack is always female.

Faith is the act of holding on to things your reason has once accepted, in spite of your changing moods.

Three buddies drown in a boating accident while fishing and as luck had it they all get to go to heaven. At the Pearly Gates they were asked, "When you are in your casket and everyone is mourning upon you, what would you like to hear them say?" Bubba says, "I would like like them to say that I was a great fisherman and a wonderful family man." Joe Bob says, "I would like to hear them say that I could cast a line farther than anyone and that I made a huge difference in my children's lives." Jimmy Earl says, "I would like to hear them say, hey look he's moving, let take him fishing!"
